This Yearbook Is Dedicated To One Who Have Given This College Their

Peggy Miller

Mrs. Peggy Miller started as a student from 1957-1959. She started working as a member of the staff in 1959 and has worked here for 23 years. When Mrs. Miller started here she remembers that Chapel was required, blue jeans and bermuda shorts were not allowed on the front campus and the college was a two year college. When asked what has changed since she started she replied, "I miss the closeness of the V.I. family and all the Intermont Traditions!"

Dedicated Service For Many Years.

Mary Lou Smith

Mary Lou Smith was a student here from 1953-1955. She joined the faculty in 1957. When asked why she chose her profession she replied, "I knew in the seventh grade that I wanted to major in physical education! I guess it's because I loved my P.E. teacher!" Aside from being a alumni of V.I.; Mrs. Smith has put two sons through Virginia Intermont. In 1986, Mrs. Smith won the Presidents Award. She is currently serving on the alumni board.

History

Virginia Intermont College was founded by Rev. J.R. Harrison in 1884. It was first located at Glade Spring, VA. It was moved to this sight in 1891. Intermont was first called Southwest Virginia Institute, but was changed in 1922. When the school began it was an all female school offering such programs as nursing, education, retailing and library science. In 1968 the college began its four year program and the first baccalaureate degrees were awarded in 1972. Men were admitted in 1972.

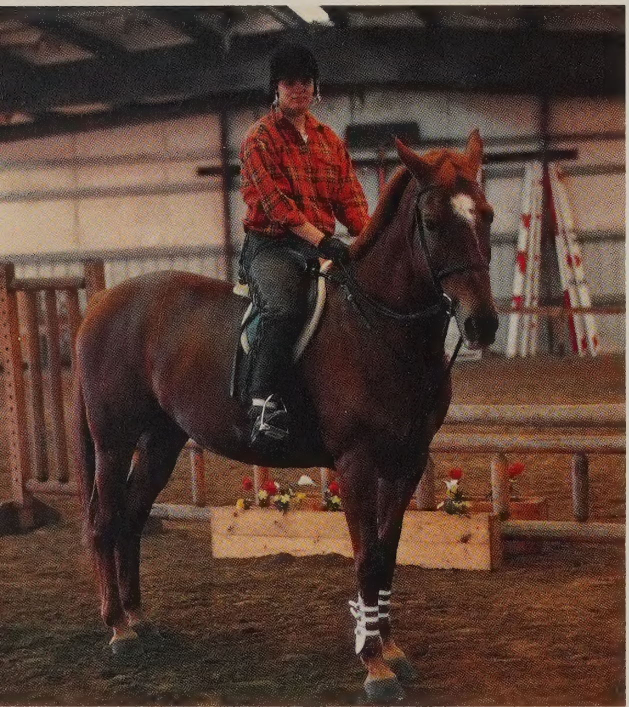
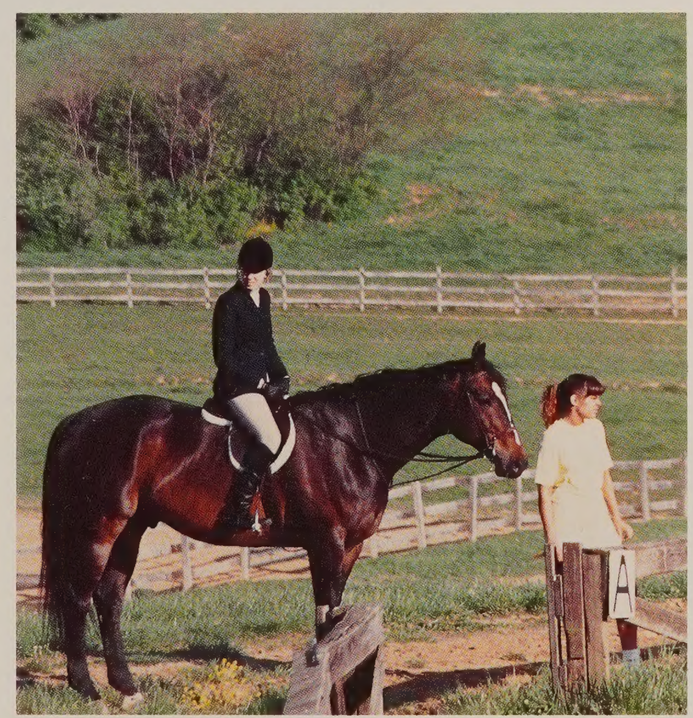
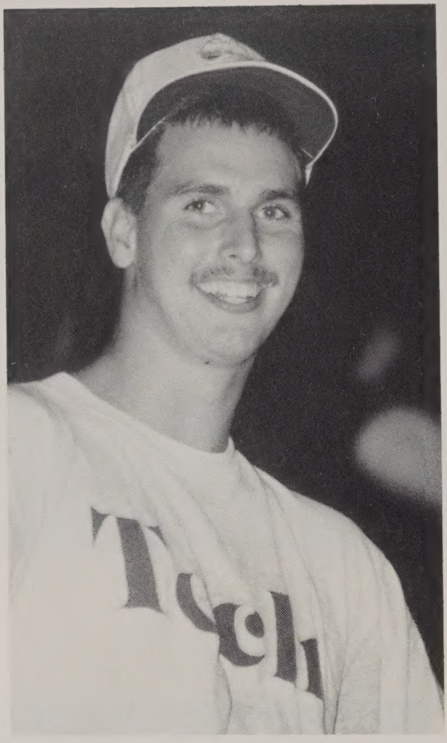
Over the years many changes have been made. Many buildings such as Harrison Jones, Intermont Hall, and the Science Hall have been added. Plans are still being made for the further development of the college. One of those plans includes the building of a new gym with better seating and more equipment and classroom space. One big change over the years was the moving of the riding center. The barn was here on campus and them moved to its present location. The equestrian department has become a big part of Virginia Intermont.

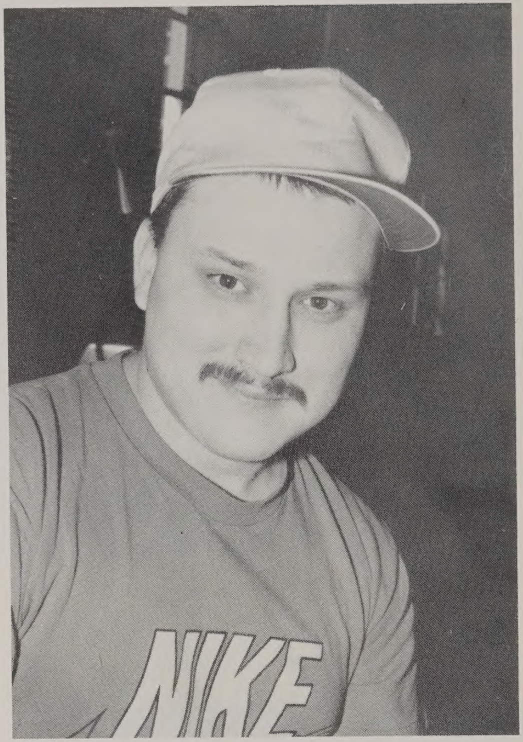




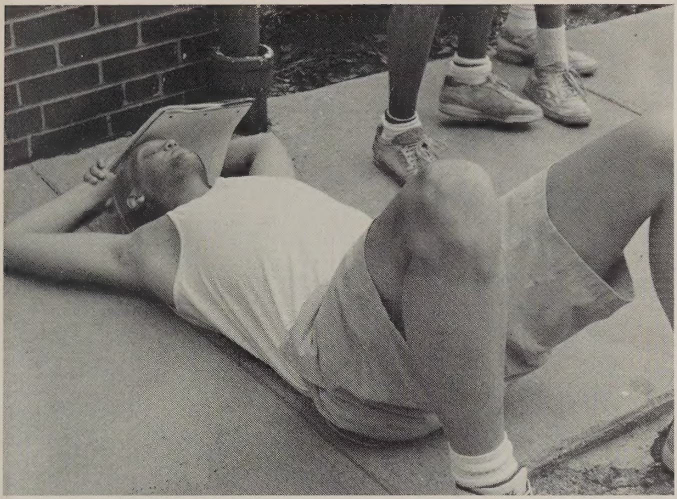
A

Names may slip our minds over time

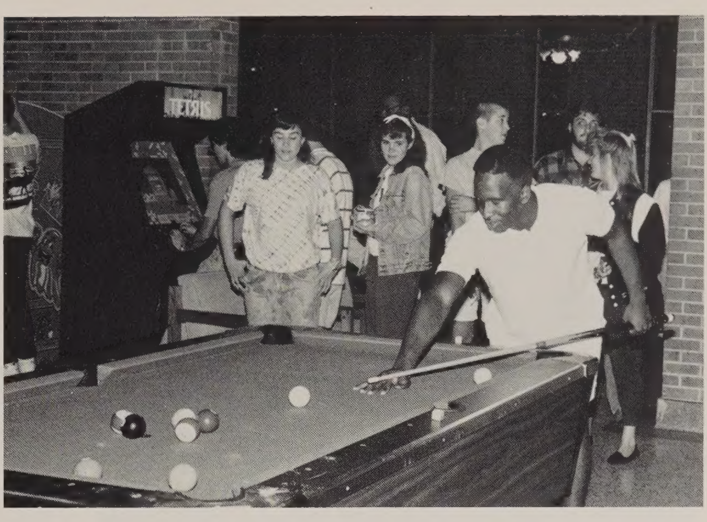




but faces will always stay with us.



Hey Dave, you can't learn anything by sleeping with your notes on your head.



Looks like a hard shot John.

Muffin and Kathy look like they're having fun!

They can't seem to get those cramps out of their necks.

Are you having fun yet?

I'm telling you B.A.K.E. is how you spell bake!

Mom, I have a small problem . . . have any spare cash?

Christina asks, "Is it gonna hurt?"

My Hero!

Security said they were coming, but . . .

"Please don't make me eat," Cara says as here friends use the force-feeding tactic.

Look Ma, the food here really does make you grow your freshman year.

Stan Tipton's version of Mae West. "Come up and see me some time, honey!"

Sara and Krissy have found the key to survival, with this well balanced meal.

3rd Intermont, Halloween decorating contest champs.

Wouldn't Rob and Cris make a cute couple?

Tom has graciously agreed to give autographs today, so everyone get in line.

What do you mean I can't have any pizza?

"I got his autograph!" Laurie screams.

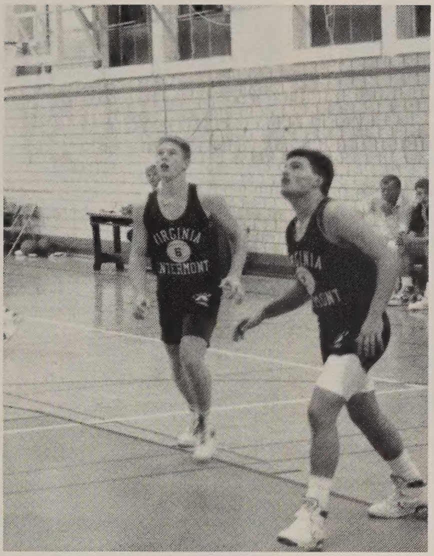
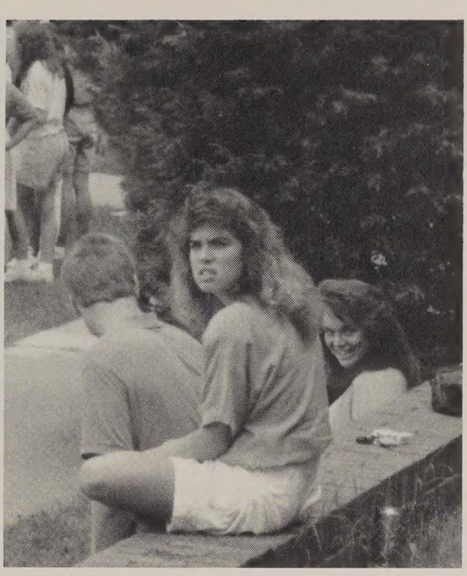
CENTER & SWIMMING

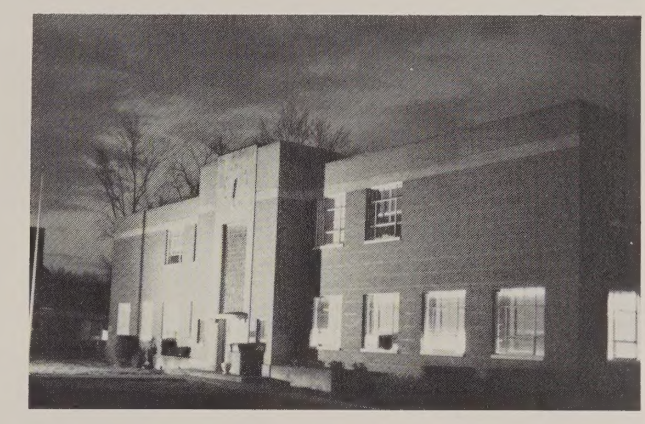


Do you think it will ever come back down?



DeeDee might not have liked what was said but Julie sure thought it was funny!

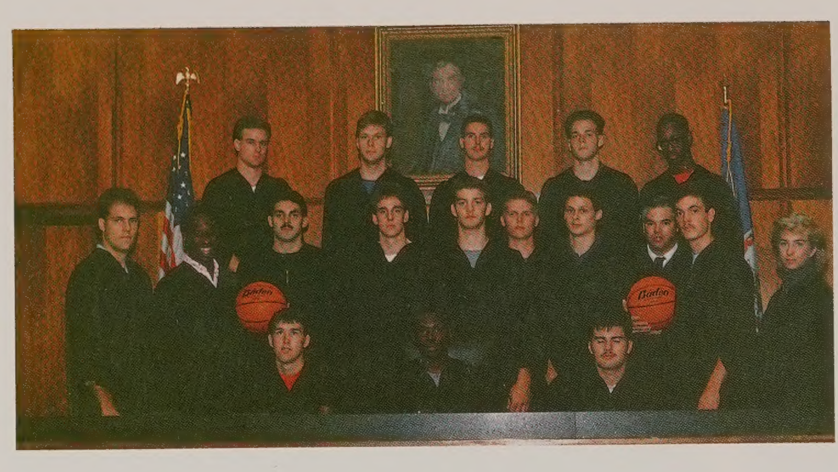
What do you think, could I make the centerfold?



Oh, if I'd only known you when I was a freshman.

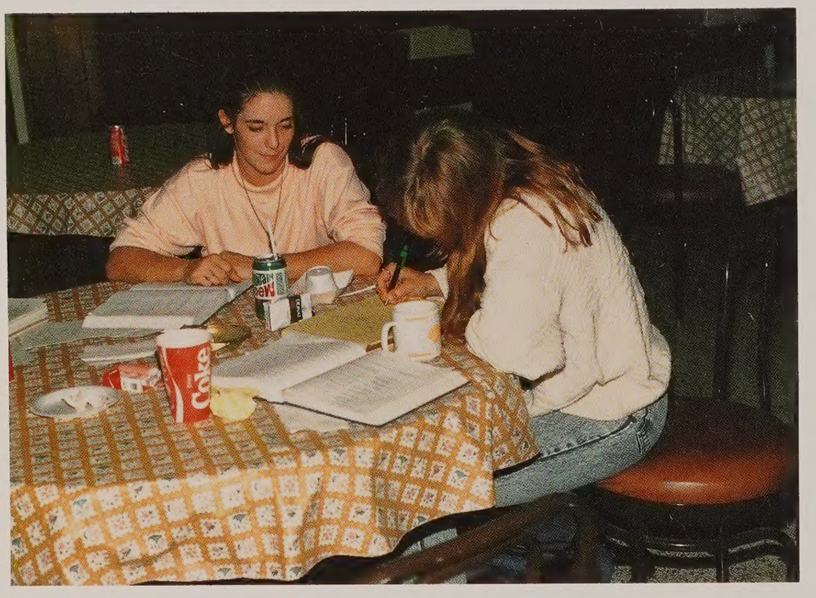
Mrs. Smith looks stumped by Lawton's question.

Hey Denise, you can't have those for your farm!



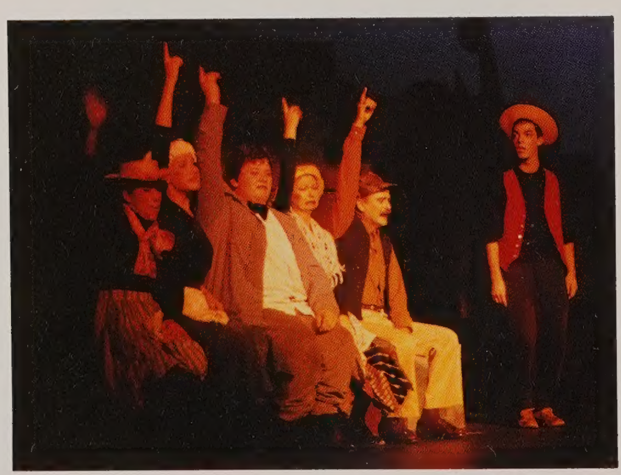
Court is in session.

Annemarie and Claire find a new way to shoot pool!



"Noni, 2+2 is 4," says Sissy. "This is my office!" insists Noni.

"Look honey, can't talk now, someone's at the door."



" . . . and that chopper could fall on his head and do him in."
